SAYS CHANCE CAN'T DEVELOP PLAYERS

Kling Claims Cub Leader Is a Good Boss and Captain.

BOSTON, May 4 .- "I think that the late Frank Selee was the best team manager and Frank Chance the best first baseman I ever played under," said Johnny Kling, manager of the Boston Wardmen, according to a New York newspaper. "Selee really made the Cubs champions. He developed Chance into a first baseman, discovered Evers, Reulbach, Tinker and Schulte, and gave me the first opportunity to catch behind the bat. Selee was a natural judge of playing talent. He wasn't a bulldozer on the bench, but an even-tempered, fair-minded critic of the mistakes made by his players. Had he lived he would have received all the credit for the greatness of the Cubs instead of Chance.

"I don't believe Chance can pick up and develop young players, but he knows how to make the men placed in his care play ball. He is a strict disciplinarian and a great field general. As a first baseman and batter he was at the top of the heap and set a winning example.

"Chance has always believed in slapping on fines for boob plays. I remember one day he fined King Cole $200 for poor pitching. Cole was as mad as a hatter, and turning to Chance he cried: "'I'm going to quit the team and go into the navy! "'If you do I'll give you $500 and remit the fine!' replied Chance, earnestly, and Cole decided to remain with the "Fielder Jones, in my opinion, was another great base ball leader. He knew how to drive his men. We had a great team when the White Sox, called the hitless wonders, beat us in a fall series, a feat that was entirely due to Jones' pluck and pugnacity. Too bad Jones quit base ball, for he would have kept the White Sox always near the top. "You've got to hand it to John McGraw, oo. He keeps the Glants hustling and that wins games. McGraw has made base ball in New York and is entitled to all the praise he receives."

GEORGE MORIARTY MAY LEAVE DETROIT

Cleveland, Chicago and Washington Said to Be After the Infielder.

CHICAGO, May 4.-There is talk of trading George Moriarty for Rollo Zeider. It has traveled along the ranks of both Detroit and Chicago teams. The main basis for the rumor is that Zeider is not a first baseman and Moriarty is, while Moriarty is not as good at second, short or third as Zeider, while Zeider plays better at the other infield position than on first. Moriarty has served as principal party in at least seven different "rumor" trades with four different clubs. Frank J. Navin says he will keep him, but Moriarty is a much-wanted young man around the league and could have a regular first baseman's job with Cleveland, Chicago or Washington if Detroit traded or sold him to one of these clubs.

Naturally fitted to play first base, with little chance to break into Detroit's lineup unless injury befalls Gainer or Lou-den, Jennings is unable to work Meriarty. Hughie likes Zeider and has openly ex-pressed his opinion of Zeider's ability. Those who paid attention to the rumor did so because they realized that Detroit could find more value in Zeider than in Moriarty. Jennings is openly in favor of him, while the Detroit club has never been absolutely positive about retaining

In the meantime the bidding for Moriarty continues and one of these days an announcement of a trade or sale will feature the name Moriarty.

ACCIDENT BEATS AMHERST.

Player, While Scoring Tying Run, Falls on Base Line.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., May 4.-Harvard scored a 3 to 2 victory over Amherst to day in a game that was prevented from going into overtime only by an accident. Vernon, the Amherst pitcher, running for home from third in the ninth inning stumbled and fell and was put out with the tying run within reach. The contest was a pitchers' battle, with Felton having a shade the better of Vernon. The score: Harvard...... 2 0 0 0 1 0 0 0 0-3 6 3 Amherst..... 0 0 0 1 0 0 0 1 0-2 4 0

COVER FOR HISTORIC STONE.

Design Submitted for Protection of Braddock's Rock, Near Frostburg. Special Dispatch to The Star.

FROSTBURG, Md., May 4.-Mr. R. Holt Hitchins of Frostburg has submitted a design of ornamental form to shelter the "Braddock Rock," or mile stone, erected by Braddock's army, near Frostburg, while on the march to Fort Duquesne, in which Braddock lost his life. The stone stands where it was erected, and is now in charge of the Daughters of the American Revolution, who have had it pieced gether where it broke apart, and who have been taking care of it.

The proposed covering will be of stone, supported by six massive round columns, and it is proposed to erect it on the old Braddock road site, a few yards from the stone's present location. The stone marks the mileage from that point to Cumberland and from that same point to Fort Duquesne by rude letters carved on one side, while on the other is a declaration of the army that it will defend its "coun-
